Supporting LGBTI children and young people in schools

A FREE seminar for students, parents and teachers

This seminar is an opportunity for school students, parents and families, education staff, and relevant organisations to come together to better support and include lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans and intersex (LGBTI)* students.

Developed and presented by student members of the Commissioner for Children and Young People WA's 2018 Advisory Committee, Bunbury Senior High School and Inclusive Education WA, the seminar aims to improve understanding and awareness about the needs of LGBTI children and young people, and how to best support LGBTI students in their school community.

The event includes presentations and panel discussion involving students and staff from Bunbury Senior High School and Inclusive Education WA. Registration and refreshments are available at 4pm, with the seminar commencing at 4:30pm.

The Commissioner for Children and Young People:

Colin Pettit is the Commissioner for Children and Young People in WA. The Commissioner is the independent advocate for all children and young people under 18 years of age in WA.

*The Commissioner for Children and Young People understands there are a range of terms and definitions that people use to define their gender or sexuality. The Commissioner's office uses the broad term LGBTI to inclusively refer to all people who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans and intersex, as well as to represent other members of the community that use different terms to describe their diverse sexuality and/or gender.
